

Zio Johno's Fundraiser is a success for Prairie Ag Education/FFA

The Zio Johno's Restaurant on Edgewood Road in Cedar Rapids hosted a fundraiser on March 3rd in support of the Prairie School's Ag Education/FFA Program to be launched this fall on Prairie's campus.

Zio Johno's donated a portion of the day's proceeds from dine-in, carry-out and delivery orders throughout the day. The result was a donation of $400 from the restaurant plus $104 in cash donations made while Prairie students, planning to enroll in the program, were in the restaurant from 5:00 pm to 7:00 pm promoting and distributing materials about the program to diners.

Prairie Students were given permission from State FFA Headquarters to wear t-shirts identifying them as future FFA members. Nike Frese provided the t-shirts that were printed by Ironside Apparel for the event.

The Prairie School Foundation is partnering with the College Community School District to raise funds that will help launch the Ag Education initiative during its first three years. The foundation and the district thank Eli Khairallah, owner of the restaurant, and the Zio Johno's staff for a very successful event for the benefit of our Prairie Kids.
